

Call for Participation: Art Installations May 31 – June 3, 2012

The Wakarusa Festival is currently seeking art installation proposals for the 2012 Festival.

The Wakarusa Festival is a 4-day foot stomping party in the heart of the Midwest. Born in 2004, Wakarusa burst onto the scene with a diverse and eclectic lineup featuring over 70 artists. In 2006, Wakarusa quickly established itself as a premiere, grassroots event in the nationwide outdoor music scene. 2009 marked the event's first year at Mulberry Mountain in Ozark, Arkansas. The 2012 Festival promises to be even more exciting than in the past! Please visit www.wakarusafestival.com for more information.

Wakarusa has a long standing commitment to the local art community. We are proud to announce expanded opportunities for local, regional, and national artists who are interested in creating an atmosphere where Festival goers may engage in deep connections with each other, the land, and all forms of interactive art.

We are interested in permanent sculptures, interactive pieces, co-creative art projects of any size, and are open to any ideas!

Art installations need to be stunning by day and night. The interactive nature of the art piece may be different during the day and night via its functionality, look, lighting, and intent. Be imaginative! Even ground can not be guaranteed, and the pieces must be safe to touch for all age groups.

If interested, please submit your proposal no later than March 9, 2012 in the format provided below. Only those with a proven track record will be considered.

In order to be considered for this project, please send your proposal addressing the points below and references to WakarusaArt@gmail.com no later than March 9, 2012 as an email attachment with the following subject line header: Wakarusa – Art Proposal
